Elevator Pitch

In the United Nations Secretariat's offices, the term Page refers to a confidential report ready for publication. Hanover is the "good man" on the ground whose approval determines if the report goes public. A multi-national "Pop Band" on tour is a front for secret agents gathering intelligence. A Canadian general up for command of a UN peace keeping force has critical documents proving the private interests conspiracy. No one in the Middle East wants this cover-up exposed.

Opening:

Fade from dark to a dimly lit back panel of a professional sound rack. A handheld Mag-light illuminates a midi patch bay where a hand plugs in a cable. A telephone rings once. We hear a door open and close, footsteps come down the corridor. The soundman is sweating. There is a loud knock at the door. Rack lights switch off. We here breathing... interrupted by the unmistakable sound of an automatic weapon slide bolt snap home. The silence is shattered by rapid fire, bullets ricocheting off the steel rack front. The riddled door is kicked open, the wounded soundman supporting himself against the wall. The dark figure of the gunman shifts his weight. His cigarette lighter glowing against his face. His rugged features seem Turkish, Greek or Arabic. A flash and sound of his instamatic camera. The intruder drops a jelly grenade and walks off, leaving the room in a bath of fire. Lead rock guitar riffs into and out of crackling sound of fire turning into radio (Walkie Talkie) breaking up.

Fade to flame-like color waves and shimmers dissolve to a military vehicle on fire in the desert. A young Palestinian waves at a land rover screeching to a stop. The young Palestinian and the killer get in. As they drive away the radio crackles the BBC report. "Near Gaza today terrorists ambushed an Israeli personnel vehicle, reportedly carrying United Nations Canadian General Dominique Gericault. Gericault is the first woman to attain the rank of General in the Canadian Royal Air Force." The land rover pulls up to what appears as an Arab tent village. Shouts & greetings exchange. Subtitles translate the Arabic words... "You have delivered the package?" The back bay of the Rover swings open. A large mail sack is shoved off the vehicle. The killer undoes the chinch. "Behold, the sword of the United Nations." An attractive woman in military uniform painfully crawls out of the sack.
